The Eliza Original De Lux mattress is a medium-strength mattress based on the orthopedic spring block Feather Hofmann (Germany) with springs with a wire diameter of 2.4 mm made of durable steel. The mattress provides optimal support for the spine during sleep. The spring block is reinforced with a polyurethane part. The spring block is protected on both sides by a reinforced thick protective layer so that the springs cannot pass through the filler. The mattress has a cactus on both sides, it makes the surface harder. On the one hand – high-quality material Ortofoam (dense, elastic foam filling), on the other hand Climalatex – the material that we use in the upper layer of the mattress is a natural soft material made from the extract of the sap of the rubber tree. Because to the special composition and perforation, the mattress will maintain regular air circulation. The mattress is double-sided. Due to the used filler, mattress is dust mites and other parasites free.
