The Eliza Grand De Lux mattress is a mattress based on an orthopedic Hofmann-spring block with springs with a wire diameter of 2.4 mm made of durable steel. The mattress provides optimal support for the spine during sleep. The spring block is protected on both sides by a reinforced thick protective layer so that the springs cannot pass through the filler. Stylex40 is a flexible material that has served for more than 15 years and is fire-resistant. The mattress is covered with cactus on both sides, it makes the surface harder. The mattress is double-sided. Due to the used filler, mattress is dust mites and other parasites free. The mattress is ideal for those who value their health and sleep.
